Hacienda Business Park Welcomes New Tenants

Hacienda Business Park businesses have been hard at work over the last several months with some of the park's top companies making major announcements. In addition, new tenant activity has been strong with a host of new arrivals.

"The positive growth trend seen in the last eighteen months is continuing, says James Paxson, Hacienda's general manager. "In addition, several new leases are expected for announcement soon.'

Major activity includes the following:

• A new CooperVision web site, launched in partnership with the Armed Forces Optometric Society (AFOS), allows military members and their families to purchase CooperVision's contact lenses affordably and receive guaranteed delivery wherever they are located around the world.

"As a former member of the U.S. Armed Services, I understand and appreciate the unique demands placed on our military personnel and their families," said John Weber, CooperVision president.

For every box of Cooper-Vision Biofinity, Avaira, and Proclear 1 day contact lenses purchased through the website, CooperVision will donate $1 to the Wounded Warrior Project.

 Adept Technology was the runner-up to Tesla Motors in the Advanced Manufacturing category of the East Bay Economic Development Alliance's East Bay Innovation Awards. The company, headquartered in Hacienda, was recognized for its effort to give sight to robots and to bring mobile robot technology to commercial applications.

"These are very smart, very sophisticated robots. Adept president and CEO John Dulchinos said. "We're putting them in warehouses and clean rooms, hospitals and office buildings. They're much faster than people and more consistent, and robots have gotten smarter, cheaper, and more capable than ever before."

• Hacienda's NeoTract reports that a 206-patient study of men with benign prostatic hyperplasia (BPH), an enlargement of the prostate gland, has determined that the company's UroLift System treatment provides rapid symptomatic improvement, increased urinary flow rates, and preserved sexual function, among other benefits.

"The successful completion of the rigorous L.I.F.T. study marks a significant milestone for the UroLift System and NeoTract highlighting the potential this minimally invasive treatment option brings to patients suffering from an en-larged prostate," said Dave Amerson, President and CEO, NeoTract. Inc. "Given its strong therapeutic benefit and safety profile, we be-lieve UroLift will be a first line treatment option for patients with BPH.

The new tenants added the last three months include 383 Media, providers of data-driven marketing solutions for niche-market web applications and software; Advanced Rx Management, a full service Point of Care management company; California Pain, providing pain relief solutions: Daitan Labs of America, a consulting and development partner for technology companies; ImageX, providing marketing collateral, printing, packaging, promotional, direct mail web based services; Safari Kid, an academic heritage school emphasizing academic enrichment and language; and Spigit, Inc., social innovation software provider.
