The popular “Hacienda wreaths” returned to Pleasanton at the end of November.

Each year, Hacienda’s distinctive wreaths are hung from the arches at Hopyard Road and Stoneridge Drive and Hacienda Drive and Interstate 580. Decorative accents are also included in all four of Hacienda’s feature intersections which, in addition to the two just noted, include Hacienda Drive and Stoneridge Drive, and Hacienda Drive and Owens Drive.

“Hacienda really enjoys bringing a festive look to North Pleasanton and to join in all of the many community celebrations that occur now through the end of the year.” said James Paxson, Hacienda’s general manager. “We welcome the opportunity to contribute to these seasonal traditions.”
