Hacienda Sees Increased Activity

Hacienda Business Park in Pleasanton continues to see increases in occupancy with a further net gain in tenant activity. The current trend of positive absorption is on track to continue into the new year.

"2016 has been nothing short of a great year for Hacienda," says James Paxson, Hacienda's general manager. "With new construction in both the office and residential sectors, investment in existing facilities, infrastructure improvements in the form of a new recycled water system and telecommunications upgrades, and strong leasing over the last several months, Hacienda is ending the year well. What is particularly exciting is that we continue to increase occupancy while expanding our base of occupancy with new facilities."

Paxson gives an example of what is happening. He reports that the Oracle Applications User Experience (UX) team has created an automatically generated online newspaper, the Minor Daily Planet, which collects the day's asteroid news for subscribers. Launched in August, it is a component of the NASA Minor Planet Center's (MPC) Asteroid Data Explorer tool. New tenants arriving in Hacienda over the past three months include: Coast Technologies, Fluor Enterprises, Inc., Great Destinations, UCSF Medical Center, Tradesmen International, and First Edison, a hybrid clean energy company specializing in managing and minimizing energy costs for commercial and industrial properties, businesses and manufacturing and industrial plants.
